

Literature Coordinator Report for AWSC July 2023

Sandra F.
Area 9 Florida North
Literature Coordinator
Panel 61
literature-61@afgarea9.org

Hello everyone, Here is correspondence from WSO that might be of interest - -

Hi Sandra,

Greetings from your World Service Office. Thanks for your question regarding when the new daily reader, A Little Time for Myself (B-34) will be available in large print.

Additional formatting options for the book, including large print and ebook versions, have not been determined at this time, as there are several factors to consider. However, you may be interested to know that before the editing of the book even began, test studies were done with AI-Anon volunteers to determine what font style, font size, amount of white space, and word count on each page would be most appropriate for comfortable reading. This was followed through in the development of the drafts and the design of the final result. When compared to the regular print editions of our previous daily readers, there is a noticeable difference.

Thanks again for sharing the question, Sandra, and for all you do for AI-Anon. Best wishes for continued peace and serenity in the AI-Anon program.

Yours in service,

Tom Coffey
Associate Director--Literature

All my best in service
Sandra F.
Area 9 Literature Coordinator

